DETAILED ACTION

Page 2

1. This paper is in response to the pre-amendment filed 28 October 2003 that crossed in the mail with the First Office Action mailed 12 November 2003, which is hereby vacated.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: on page 4, line 16 the recitation of "senseso" should most likely be --sense so--; on page 8, line 24, the recitation of "proved" should most likely be --provided--; on page 12, line 9, the recitation of "an other" should most likely be --another--; on page 14, line 29, the mud flow is said to be indicated by arrows P and P1, while the drawings show P and P`.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

3. Claims 2, 20, 27, and 44 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. The ranges of rotation set forth in these claims encompass the range of 360 degrees already presented in claims 1, 19, 26, or 43.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- 4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
 The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
- 5. Claims 1, 2, 11, 19, 20, 27, 41, 42, 44, 49, and 50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

6. The recitations of "a drive mechanism for the drill is connected to the ground" in claim 1 and "connections for connecting the ground to a drive mechanism for a drill" in claim 19 appear to be inaccurate. Perhaps the applicant meant to use --tube-- in the place of "ground".

- 7. Claim 11 is indefinite and appears to be improperly dependent from claim 1 since the pre-selected angular range of rotation includes less than 360 degrees, which is below the range of at least 360 degrees set forth in claim 1.
- 8. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPO2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claims 2, 20, 27, and 44 recite the broad recitation less than 1800 degrees, and the claim also recites preferably less than 1080 degrees and less than 720 degrees, which are the narrower statements of the range/limitation. Claims 11, 41, 42, 49, and 50 recite the broad limitation less than 360 degrees, and the claims also recite preferably less than 180 degrees, which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

Allowable Subject Matter

- 9. Claims 26, 28-40, 43, 45-48, 51, and 52 are allowed.
- 10. Claims 3-10, 12-18, and 21-25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
- The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: In GB patent 596,715, Allard teaches a method and apparatus for axially moving a tube in a borehole in a series of alternating, angularly opposite, rotating movements within a limited angular range of rotation of less than 180 degrees. In US patent 5,101,913, Stockley et al teach a method and apparatus for axially moving a tube in a borehole wherein a drill is used to of which the rate of material removal is independent of the direction or speed of rotation of the tube. However, the prior art of record, either alone or in combination, does not teach that the tube is moved within a limited angular range of rotation that comprises at least one full rotation of 360 degrees, as currently claimed.

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Cherrington et al, Djurovic, Leturno, Peck et al, Strong et al, Tschirky, and Winfree teach various methods for casing while drilling. Pruet teaches a chamber for maintaining drilling fluid circulation while attaching pipe joints together. Fuller and Wallace teach the use of rotary tables and downhole motors in combination.
